CHRISTIAN SOLDIERS PARADE IN STORM.

Thousands Join Evangelists in Night March Through Streets Running With Water, Carrying Gospel Message to Those Without the Fold.

Brave hearts marched last night in the army of the Lord that went forth under the lead of evangelists to reclaim sinners and to bring penitent souls to the foot of the cross. The Christian host that has been laboring with the people of Los Angeles to turn them into paths of righteousness literally carried the message into the streets and into the public places, singing in one great singing, praying like down one street and up another and ending with midnight meeting at the Grand Opera-house.

It was the most unique revival demonstration ever witnessed in Los Angeles. The revivales, with Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman at their head, followed by hundreds who have been moved by the district meetings held throughout the city, began assembling at Temple Auditorium on Fifth street at 10 o'clock.

There were the evangelists and the ministers of the city, the Salvation Army, the Volunteers of America and the Rescue Mission workers. There were old men and aged women, the lame and the halt. There were young men and women and youths of school age.

After a brief service in the big building, Evangelist Chapman announced the line of march and with a few words of instruction the assembly was ready to move on its unique mission.

"FORWARD, CHRISTIANS!" With the Salvation Army band in the lead, the ministers of the various churches in the city fell into line with the evangelistic singers and filed out of the hall, followed by the vast audience, numbering not less than three thousand.

As if by pre-arrangement, the height of the storm broke as the crowd moved into the street. The water came down in sheets and swept into the faces that were lit with eagerness for the fray with Satan.

Into the rushing torrents they marched. Down the center of Fifth street, inches deep with mud and water, they moved in a great procession, some under the protecting canopies of umbrellas, others with no shield against the elements.

As the company turned into Spring street and proceeded northward there was an outpouring from saloons and billiard halls; loafers at the Plaza lined the way, while zealous workers in the ranks went in and out among them, passing out cards, calling attention to the meetings throughout the city, and extending invitation to attend the midnight meeting.

Every saloon along the line of march was cleared for once. Bartenders went to the doors, some of them scoffing, others apparently prepared for an invasion of the place by business by the evangelists.

North on Spring street went the procession, singing "Shall We Gather at the River." Through upper Spring and into North Main street it marched as far as the Plaza, where a brief stop was made ere the counter-march was begun.

On the return march down Main street the marchers reached the space in front of the Grand Opera-house at Fifth and Main streets, to meet their first real barrier.

THEATER DOORS CLOSED.

The doors were closed against them. A theatrical performance was on. Inside were hundreds of pleasure-seekers, protected from the storm and enjoying themselves.

Outside gathered the thousands of souls, the rain beating down mercilessly upon them, and yet they apparently were as happy as those within.

It was a good-natured, even a joyous throng that stood out there in the rain. Rivulets from thousand umbrellas trickled down the necks of the men and soaked plumage and other military trappings of the women.

In defiance of the storm, someone in the crowd started singing "Showers of Blessing." It took the others by storm, as it were, and soon the entire gathering joined in the refrain.

Then they switched to "Happy Day, When Jesus Washed My Sins Away," and again "Shall We Gather at the River," for many of them stood in the rushing stream in the street.

Soon the doors of the theater opened and the play-lovers swept out into the storm making way for the gospel workers, who bore forward to the audience that still echoed the last notes of the negro singers who then were in the dressing-rooms making their street oration.

Almost in an instant the theater was filled, while many who had accompanied the workers thus far apparently forgot their duty done and made their way toward the theater.

No time was lost in organizing the meeting. Mr. Chapman took a place on the stage, with the ministers of the city seated behind him.

ROUSING REVIVAL. Charles F. Allen led the singing of "Sweet By and By" and at its close Mr. Chapman introduced Rev. William Horace Day, who spoke briefly. He was followed by Rev. Samuel Montgomery, Rev. Will Logan, Rev. Frank Palmer, Rev. Dana Bartlett, Rev. W. T. Myer, C. J. Hall, the temperance worker, Rev. Dr. Pritchard and others, who made short speeches testifying to the bravery of those who had ventured out.

When Mr. Chapman had made an address thanking the Salvation Army and all others who had taken part in the upsurge, the meeting was turned over to Evangelist W. B. Biederwolf, with characteristic revival zeal he preached Christian love and mother love to his hearers.

As he asked for testimony as to what he had appealed to some of those who witness Christianity there were responses from all parts of the house.

"Love of mother," said one. "A mother's prayers," said another. "Mother's daily life in the home," a third.

"God's answer to prayer," was the reply of another, and so it went. Finally those who wished help were asked to raise their hands. Then they were invited to come forward and as they did so they were met by the evangelists, who knelt with them in prayer.

Throughout the meeting other workers labored on the edge of the crowd, asking the names of those who were asked to go forward, and as the meeting worked up to its highest pitch there was a noted increase in the number of those who asked for help.

Just as the last cars were clanging their warnings the meeting broke up.

In a burst of song—the result of the night's work moving the leaders to express the opinion that it had been a great success.

GREAT BANQUET. EVANGELIST GUESTS.

It is expected that the banquet to be held this evening at 7 o'clock, in the assembly rooms of the Young Women's Christian Association, will surpass in numbers the enthusiastic banquet that was held in the same place prior to the opening of the evangelistic campaign.

The first one had for its object the securing of a large guarantee fund in order to place the revival campaign on a plane of financial ease and it was eminently successful. The banquet planned for this evening is designed to demonstrate to those who come what has been done, and also to give them an opportunity of personally meeting the evangelists and singers who are now guests of the city.

Frederick H. Rindge will be toastmaster, and brief addresses will be made by Evangelists Chapman, Ostrom, Biederwolf, Stoughton, Elliott, Hobson, Walton and Shaeffer, and by Judge Wilbur of this city. Several laymen will also speak. Fred Butler will sing a solo, and a quartet of the visiting vocalists will sing one or more numbers.

An elaborate menu, prepared by the skilled chef of the Young Women's Christian Association, will be served by young lady members who have volunteered to perform that service. A very large company is assured, and it will undoubtedly be one of the most pleasant social events ever occurring in the religious circle of the city.

HALF-HEARTED CHRISTIANS. "HON. JOHN LOT'S" TUMBLE.

"And he dwelt in a cave." The words and their meaning rang through the cranial of the big Temple Auditorium yesterday afternoon, from the burning lips of Dr. W. E. Biederwolf.

They typify the tumble of the "Hon. John Lot" of Sodom from a position of great social, political and financial eminence to that of a miserable and penniless outcast, hidden away in a dismal cavern.

The meeting yesterday was the first of the mid-week mass meetings in connection with the evangelistic campaign and Temple Auditorium was well filled.

Dr. Biederwolf is an intense preacher, who has been talking to packed audiences in University Methodist Church since the opening night, and his potent words of lambent fire had a good illustration yesterday when for more than an hour he held up before them the miserable Lot as a sample of a half-hearted Christian.

"Did you ever hear of one who was called 'Christian' but who was being enticed by this world? That's the man I want to talk about this afternoon."

These were the opening sentences of the evangelist and he depicted Lot as a conspicuous type of the class. He graphically told of the parting between Abraham and his foolish nephew, and the latter's rapid rise to wealth and influence in the wicked city of Sodom, where he and his family became snared by the temptations of society and the blandishments of the rich, intermarried their daughters with the sons of the enemies of God.

Abraham and the wild pace generally of the enemies of Lot.

"Keen, shrewd, calculating Lot," said the preacher, "sacrificed the friendship of Abraham for gold. He meant to get rich and he cared not for."

"We do not read that he was a member of the Standard Oil Company or of any other great corporation, and that all he had to do was to pay out a million or two to endow a college in order to ease his conscience, but he no doubt addressed himself and called himself 'Lucky Lot.'"

"Lot was finally elevated to a political position about equal to that of mayor, and the name of the Honorable John Lot," no doubt sounded very well to his ears; name-plate on the door; take the elevator to the third floor, and all that sort of thing."

Dr. Biederwolf said he was not going to sneer at wealth, or position, or amusement, but he declared that it is the habit of the thing that is wrong.

"People are wondering," he said, "why the world does not join the church. Is it possible that it is because the church has gone and joined the world?"

"Lot was depicted as going to the Sodom of today, in-law when he had been roused to the fact that they were to be destroyed with the wicked city, and when he rapped upon the door and told them what God was about to do they only laughed at him and said: 'Why, the old man's crazy. It was a most thrilling recital of the Bible story.'

"When Lot awoke and found himself in that dismal cave," said Dr. Biederwolf, "I think he had learned the lesson that it will not do to yield one whit of principle for anything the world can give."

DOWN ON CENTRAL. BOYS WERE FROLICHOME.

Down in the Seventh Evangelistic District, at Thirtieth street and Central avenue, last night, the house was about half full of people, notwithstanding the heavy rain that fell just before opening time and the mud that well-nigh swamped the pedestrians.

The rain may serve to keep big people at home, but that it is picnic-time for the youngsters was evidenced by the fact that at least half of those present last night were boys and girls.

A chorus of about sixty voices was on hand and under the direction of O. F. Pugh they sang well.

Dr. Walton was late getting there and when he arrived Mr. Pugh had the meeting in full swing. Mr. Pugh is a preacher as well as a singer and will occupy the pulpit in a Welch Church on Sunday morning.

Dr. Walton talked briefly on the promises of God, but was required to turn his attention to the boys, who were inclined to be noisy. He said to them:

"I know there are no bad boys here; bad boys would not come out in the rain."

"'Fraid to come," called out one of the good boys.

Then the evangelist told a touching story to illustrate some of the things that no good boy would do, and another of the arches yelled:

But Dr. Walton got along pretty well with the kids, who seemed inclined

SUNDAY MEETINGS.

MEN, WOMEN AND BOYS.

No meetings will be held today or tonight in connection with the revival, except the anti-gambling meeting at 7 p. m. in Temple Auditorium, but there will be plenty doing tomorrow.

A meeting for men only will be held in Temple Auditorium at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, at which the speaker will be Dr. Biederwolf, and his subject will be "The White Life." The music will be made especially attractive by a full orchestra, a large male chorus, a male quartette and a violin soloist. The chorus will be conducted by Harry Maxwell, who will sing "The Holy City" as a solo.

Dr. Henry Ostrom will at the same hour address a meeting for women only in Simpson Auditorium.

At 4 o'clock a meeting will be held in the First Congregational Church for boys between the ages of 10 and 15 years, to be addressed by Dr. Shaeffer. His subject will be, "Putting Out the Stakes."

Services will be held as usual in all the districts on Sunday evening, but some of them will be specialized. In the seventh district, at Thirtieth street and Central avenue, Dr. R. A. Walton will sing his meeting to men only, when he will speak upon the topic, "A Good Fellow." O. F. Pugh will conduct a male chorus and will sing as a solo "The Holy City."

On Monday morning at 11 o'clock the second of the "Good Cheer" meetings will be held in the First Methodist Church, and the noon prayer meeting will be held in Blanchard Hall, with a possibility of its being changed to the Mason Opera-house, Dr. Biederwolf will be the leader.

The Monday night meeting in Immanuel Presbyterian Church will be for the young people, when Dr. Ostrom will preach from the text, "What Do I Have?"

DRUG TRUST HEAVILY SUED.

Sun Drug Company Demands
Ten Thousand Damages.

Conspiracy, Monopoly and the
Boycott Charged.

Under Law Verdict Could be
Thirty Thousand.

Charging conspiracy to unlawfully restrain, monopolize and boycott, the Sun Drug Company through Attorney C. C. Wright yesterday afternoon brought suit in the United States Circuit Court, under the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, against the F. W. Braum Company and the Western Wholesale Drug Company of Los Angeles, and all druggists in Riverside other than the Sun Drug Company. The Riverside defendants named are: Hardman Drug Company, Heath & Morrison, F. A. Gardner & Co., Charles E. Week, Hoyt Keith and James D. Seabell.

So far as known this is the first suit to be instituted against the drug trust under the Sherman Act. The plaintiff company asks damages in the sum of $10,000; but the suit is really a $20,000 suit, for that section of the act used under provides that the damages "shall recover threefold the amount of the actual damages, and the costs of suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee."

It appears from the complaint, that all of the other druggists in Riverside complained in union to the National Association of Retail Druggists that the Sun Drug Company was cutting trust prices, and threatening the Sun Drug Company was boycotted by the trust and since has been unable to buy any goods at wholesale. The Sun Drug Company claims, and offers to prove, that the defendants named, together with the National Association of Retail Druggists, the National Wholesale Druggists' Association, and The Proprietary Association of America, conspired absolutely and in violation of the output of drugs and druggists' supplies in the United States, and that they are co-conspirators in a plot to arbitrarily fix and maintain the prices of all drugs and druggists' supplies at figures in excess of market values, and to boycott all retail druggists who dare to sell below trust prices.

WHAT THE LAW SAYS. Section 1 of the Act of Congress of July 2, 1890, entitled "An Act to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies," says:

Every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy, in restraint of trade or commerce among the several States, or with foreign nations, is hereby declared to be illegal. Every person who shall make any such contract or engage in any such combination or conspiracy, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

DRUG TRUST HEAVILY SUED.

San Drug Company Demands
Ten Thousand Damages.

Conspiracy, Monopoly and the
Boycott Charged.

Under Law Verdict Could be
Thirty Thousand.

Charging conspiracy to unlawfully restrain, monopolize and boycott, the San Drug Company through Attorney C. C. Wright yesterday afternoon brought suit in the United States Circuit Court, under the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, against the F. W. Braun Company and the Western Wholesale Drug Company of Los Angeles, and all druggists in Riverside other than the San Drug Company. The Riverside defendants named are: Nordman Drug Company, Heath & Nordman, F. A. Gardner & Co., Charles E. Wick, Boyd Keith and James D. Howell.

So far as known this is the first suit to be instituted against the drug trust under the Sherman Act. The plaintiff company asks damages in the sum of $10,000, but the suit is really a $20,000 suit, for that section of the act sued under provides that the plaintiff "shall recover threefold the damages by him sustained, and the cost of suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee."

It appears from the complaint, that all of the other druggists in Riverside combined in union to the National Association of Retail Druggists that the San Drug Company was cutting prices, and thereupon the San Drug Company was boycotted by the others and since has been unable to sell any goods at wholesale.

The San Drug Company claims, and aims to prove, that the defendants, joined together with the National Association of Retail Druggists, the National Wholesale Druggists' Association and the Proprietary Association of America, control absolutely and in connection the output of drugs and druggists' supplies in the United States, and that they are co-conspirators in a plot to arbitrarily fix and maintain the prices of all drugs and druggists' supplies at figures in excess of market values, and to boycott all retail druggists who dare to sell below such prices.

WHAT THE LAW SAYS.
Section 1 of the Act of Congress of July 2, 1890, entitled "An Act to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies," says: "Every contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy, in restraint of trade or commerce among the several States, or with foreign nations, is hereby declared to be illegal. Every person who shall make any such contract, or combination, or conspiracy, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by fine not exceeding $10,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court."

And section 2 says:

Every person who shall monopolize, or attempt to monopolize, or combine or conspire with any other person or persons to monopolize, any part of the trade or commerce among the several States, or with foreign nations, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and the punishment is the same as provided in section 1.

But the San Drug Company's suit is aimed at a fenderer spot than could be reached under either of these sections—the trust's pocketbook. The suit is drawn under section 7, which reads as follows:

Any person who shall be injured in his business or property by any other person or corporation by reason of any forbidden act declared to be unlawful by this act, may sue therefor in any Circuit Court of the United States in the district in which the defendant resides or is found, without respect to the amount in controversy, and shall recover threefold the damages by him sustained, and the cost of suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

HOW THE TRUST WORKS.
The San Drug Company, according to the complaint, conducts five retail stores in Los Angeles, one in Riverside, one in Redlands and one in Pasadena; also maintains a supply house in Los Angeles from which its eight stores are supplied. For the statements which follow, the complaint is authoritative.

In 1898 the National Association of Retail Druggists was incorporated under the laws of Illinois. Of this organization most of the druggists in the United States are members. It is the retail department of the Drug Trust.

The trust's wholesale department is the National Wholesale Druggists' Association, an unincorporated organization.

The trust's manufacturing department is the Proprietary Association of America, an unincorporated organization.

The entire drug trade in the United States is practically and effectually under the control and dominion of these three combinations, they acting concertedly as the drug trust. It is complained that this trust "arbitrarily fixed the prices of goods, independently of their market value, from which prices the dealer is not permitted to deviate in any particular; and has refused and does now refuse to sell them on equal terms to all intending purchasers; said combination and conspiracy stifles all competition between retail dealers, restricts trade within prescribed limits, and establishes a monopoly of the most odious character in articles of daily consumption and of prime necessity."

THE EVIL BLACKLIST.
One of the foremost rules of the National Association of Retail Druggists is that if three-fourths of the retail druggists in any village, town or city in the United States complain to the association that any other druggist in that place has sold any article for less than the established trust price, that druggist's name shall be placed on the association's blacklist, called "Cut-throats, Proprietaries," and thereafter he shall be unable to buy anything whatsoever from any wholesale or manufacturing druggist in the United States affiliated with the trust.

All of the Riverside druggists except the San Company are members of the National Association of Retail Druggists. The F. W. Braun Company and the Western Wholesale Drug Company are members of the National Wholesale Druggists' Association.

Responsive to the complaint of the Riverside druggists, the San Drug Company's name was placed on the association's blacklist October 1, 1904. Since then the San people have been unable to buy a pound of drugs or supplies, having been directly and decisively "turned down" by the F. W. Braun Company, the Western Wholesale Drug Company and every other wholesale drug house on the Pacific Coast from which attempts to buy were made. The refusal to sell was frankly based on the blacklisting. The latest refusal was on January 20, 1905.

Under this absolute boycott the San Company was saved from ruin by the fact that its own supply house was well stored.

Damages in the sum of $10,000 and costs are now being asked in this boycott. Should a jury award this amount, the plaintiff will be entitled to recover $30,000 from the defendants.

Investigators Arriving at San Diego. Hearing to be Begun This Morning. It is Stated, and Completed as Soon as Possible—Chairman Weyand Says It Will be Thorough.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN DIEGO, Feb. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Judge Torrance investigation committee of the Assembly arrived here this evening and went direct to Hotel Del Coronado. Assemblyman Barnes of this county is not in the party. E. Weyand of Colusa, chairman, is accompanied by his wife, Geo. McGowan of San Francisco will arrive tomorrow.

Other members of the committee present are Frank R. Devlin of Salinas county and Frank J. O'Brien of Sacramento county. W. H. Anderson and Russ Avery, the former chairman of the grievance committee and the latter a trustee of the Los Angeles Bar Association, arrived in advance of the committee and are holding a conference with the investigators tonight.

The Los Angeles men state it as their intention to give the committee whatever aid they can in conducting the investigation. They have interviewed a number of witnesses.

Chairman Weyand states that the committee has decided that the taking of testimony shall be in public and that a beginning will be made tomorrow morning, the intention being to complete the work as soon as possible. The sessions will be held at the courthouse.

It is understood that Torrance will be represented by counsel. Weyand says the duties of the committee are to ascertain and report to the Legislature whether impeachment proceedings should be prosecuted. He anticipates a number of voluntary witnesses. It is likely that two or three days will be occupied with the examination of witnesses. Lists of witnesses have been compiled for the convenience of the committee.

THEATER INCORPORATION.
Articles of incorporation of the Wyatt Theater Company have been filed here. The company will erect and maintain a theater in this city. There are seven directors, of whom H. C. Wyatt of Los Angeles is one, and the capitalization is $100,000.

HUB BANQUET.

Clothing House Celebrates Success of Co-operation and Departure of President for Europe.

Last night the officers and employees of the Hub Clothing Company enjoyed a theater party at Belasco's and a banquet at The Bristol. It was really a celebration of the success of the co-operative plan put in practice by A. L. Brown, president of the company, and was a delightful event.

Two years ago Mr. Brown went abroad for a year, first taking into the business several of the men in his employ, and leaving Jack Hammer in charge as manager. He was so well pleased with the result that a number of others have been made stockholders and the company incorporated with the following officers: President, A. L. Brown; vice-president and manager, Jack Hammer; secretary and treasurer, R. Lauterback; counsel, S. A. Simons. Besides these the following were present last night: M. Berbe, F. A. Scoville, J. Ansell, G. S. Myers, J. C. Burns, F. E. Cronall, A. Mogn, H. Donke, Frank Keenan, Jack Mullins and S. B. Kurtz. The press was represented.

Mr. Brown is about to start on a trip abroad which will consume about a year and a half, taking his family with him. His satisfaction with the management of Mr. Hammer needs no further comment than the fact of his being again entrusted with the care of the business.

ANNUAL BANQUET.

Chamber of Commerce Issues Invitations to Reserve Plates, Price Five Dollars.

It has been determined to give the annual banquet of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in Turner Hall, on the evening of Wednesday, February 22—Washington's Birthday. Much discussion preceded the selection of Turner Hall, the membership of the chamber having grown to such proportions that seating capacity was the prime consideration as to place.

Camera Sam is First.

A Manchester photographer relates that he took a photograph of a child who was apparently in good health and had a clear skin. The negative showed the face to be thickly covered with an eruption. Three days afterward the child was covered with spots due to prickly heat. The camera had seen and photographed the eruption three days before it was visible to the naked eye. It is said that another case of a similar kind is recorded where a child showed spots on his portrait which were invisible on his face a fortnight previous to an attack of smallpox.—[Springfield Republican.]

Our plan of exchange can be explained in several different ways:

We allow full credit for old, unused disk records of above makes, returned to us, provided when three times the amount returned is ordered. In ordering new goods the total amount may be considered reference to size of records; for instance, if you were to send back records listed at 50 cents each, at $1.00 each, and one at $1.50, we would credit you with $2.50, at the time you sent or brought back the goods you ordered $10.50 worth of new records. You would actually pay $7.00, and get $10.50 worth of new records of any size or style wanted.

Still another way to figure it is that you must always pay for twice as much as you bring back, but you return in return three times as much as you bring in for exchange.

Another way of putting it, you can buy new records and pay one-third of the bill with old records. This plan of exchange applies to new retail or wholesale.

NOTE EXCEPTION: After February 15th, 1905, the above exchange will not apply to Red Seal Records. Going to the enormous fees and royalties paid to the opera singers, these records are not returnable, make your exchanges now.

We have old records credited on orders being in unless amount of goods that being returned is mentioned on the order.

Give a list of a few extra numbers of second choice. If you want full credit for old records returned.

Old records returned to us are never used again under any circumstances, whether good or bad, but are returned to the factory and there destroyed.

This discontinuing of exchange privilege on Red Seal Records is brought about from the fact that there is absolutely no profit in the records, since it is necessary for Victor people to pay to some of the Grand Opera Stars $15,000 each to make ten records—they have ten such contracts for exclusive services of these stars—and since only a limited number of records can be struck off from original matrix.

The Victor people are giving to the public the best service money can buy. A large percentage of the record business is absolutely without profit, but it is done as a "feeder" to the whole, and to encourage the purchase of machines.

Have you experimented in the supplying of a larger horn on your smaller machine? See us.

Victors sell at $17.50, $27.50, $32.50, $40, $45, $55, $65, $105.

Victor Records sell at 50c, 45c, $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50, $3, $5 each; discount on purchases of a dozen or more.

We are headquarters for Victor goods.

UNDER THE "SLANT OF THE SUN."

BETWEEN strenuous Los Angeles and fair Hollywood green fields intervene. But as our tramway car spins toward the foothills, the thought impresses itself that in a very few years indeed the gap will be closed. The traveler has left the metropolis behind and is fairly in the open, but all around are evidences of the rapid transformation of country into town. New homes dot the landscape everywhere, and scores more are in process of building. Here a wooded knoll is crowned by a fine mansion, there the brow of a little valley that affords a delightful prospect has its bungalow; and yonder, nestled in the dip of two hills, is a dainty cottage embowered in greenery. We have not yet crossed the boundary line of Hollywood, but for a mile past we have been amid almost continuous settlement. If the mother city is reaching out toward her daughter of the foothills, so is the latter advancing to clasp hands. Each has her own peculiar gift to bestow, the one her keen business enterprise, the other her sweet retreat from the moil and bustle of the world. But now we are in Hollywood proper, whose corporate limits extend from Center street on the east to Crescent avenue on the west, and from the high hills on the north to the limits of Colegrove on the south. Entering her borders, her unique glories are revealed.

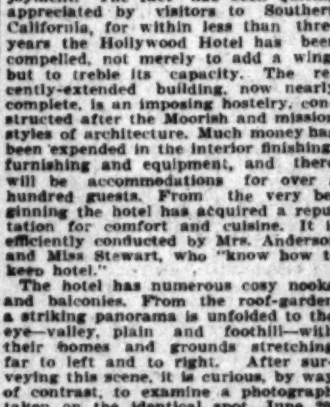

Now the well-built Sunset boulevard connects the two places, having been opened to traffic in May of last year. It runs in almost a direct line through the hills in the northwest part of Los Angeles, connecting with Lakeshore boulevard at Echo Park and with Bellevue avenue at the Sisters' Hospital. The thoroughfare is for the most part 100 feet wide, nearly all curbed, paved with decomposed granite, smoothed and rolled. Heavy cuts and dills were required through the hills to bring it to traffic grade. With its smooth, hard surface, its sweeping curves and easy gradients, it constitutes one of the most picturesque and delightful roadways in the vicinity of Los Angeles. The line of the electric railroad is also a route favored by motorists. The electric line enters Hollywood by way of Prospect boulevard, a main thoroughfare 100 feet wide, which is well graded and paved. It is, moreover, shaded for long distances by spreading pepper trees of twenty years' growth. The total cost of Sunset and Prospect boulevards has been provided with valuable transportation facilities. Cars start in each direction at intervals of fifteen minutes, and Los Angeles, seven miles, is traversed in twenty-five minutes, and the season-ticket rate makes the fare average only 6-8 cents one way. So in effect Hollywood is as easy of access from the city as any portion of the city itself, and at only a trifle greater cost.

The time will come, and that in the not distant future, when an electric railway line will be seen winding its magic way through that historic gateway, the Chatsworth Pass, thus forming

POURING RAILS TURN TO FLOODS, DRIVING LOWLAND DWELLERS OUT.

Water Enough in Los Angeles River to Float a Steamer.

Southern California in Grasp of Mighty Dampness. Railroads Blocked, Mountains Torn Down and Ranches Swept Away by Cloudbursts, Telephone Sys- tems Demoralized and Human Life Endangered.

AND STILL IT RAINS! This morning at 2 o'clock reports received by The Times from Redlands, San Bernardino, Riverside, Colton and San Diego brought the good news that J. Pluvius was still busy in those places. In Los Angeles, also, there was "something doing." Santa Barbara reported the clouds rolling by. Five inches had fallen. Yuma, Ariz., reported a good storm about over.

At the Pacific Light and Power Company's powerhouse near the mouth of the San Gabriel Cañon it was raining and 2.56 inches had fallen in the twenty-four hours to midnight last night. At the headgate up the cañon the fall in the twenty-four hours to 6 p. m. was four inches. At 6 o'clock last night there was 100,000 inches of water running in the San Gabriel Cañon and 6000 inches in the San Antonio Cañon.

Boyle Heights was treated to a local freak last evening in the form of a hailstorm, while no other parts of the city received any frozen drops. Covina, Monrovia and Pasadena had hail earlier in the day, and in the latter city lightning destroyed a church, as reported in the Pasadena column today. Alpine Tavern was struck by a boulder and partially demolished, and the Mount Lowe Railway suffered all along the line.

Mountain cloudbursts have caused extensive damage to railroads and there is a possibility of much more loss in this way should the rain continue, as seems likely. Not far from Monrovia a ranch was practically swept away, and in San Bernardino county a whole family had a very narrow escape in a turbulent river.

The Times' rain gauge showed a fall of a little over an inch from 5 p. m. till 2 o'clock this morning, making the season's total 9.40 inches; for storm, 3.27 inches. Last year at this time .57 inch had fallen.

AN UNUSUALLY LOUD, HOARSE whistle this morning will mean an ocean steamer coming up the Los Angeles River from San Pedro Bay; there was water enough last night to float one.

The river has not been so high in many years. At Aliso street, the water rushed down in a wild frolic, 300 feet broad, roaring about the piers of the new bridge with a song that could be heard blocks away.

And this was the tiny attenuated creek that usually passes for a river! The squatters who live in shanties along the river bottoms were forced to swim like half-drowned rats for dry land.

One shanty, higher than the rest, near the First-street bridge, was anchored by its frenzied owner with many ropes and guys to the solid piling of the embankments; up to a late hour last night this particular dump had escaped the water.

Other shanties, lower, were swept completely away, water racing through them and tearing their flimsy joinings apart.

Near the Aliso-street bridge is a small canal used to pump water from the San Francisco Water Bureau at 9 o'clock last night it was in the middle of a big flood; water tore around it and through it; the flood itself covered the structure; it looked as though it might be washed away any minute. The machinery inside, unless the river rises higher the bridges will be safe. The thing that inspected the power wire ropes going across the river reported last night that the poles were all safe and that no evidence of damage was to be seen about the piers of the new railroad bridge.

About the territory where the hobos have been accustomed to make their camp every night, the water hissed and gurgled, slipped against the piling and boiled across the sand that heretofore has been the bed of dozens of boys. They sat around the hobo camp last night and swore horribly at the rain.

HIGH WIND EXPECTED.
"Belle Southwest storm signal."
Such was the order received by Local Forecaster Official Franklin from the San Francisco Weather Bureau at 9 o'clock last night. It is feared that the storm that has been gathering for the last forty-eight hours off Point San Pedro may sweep the coast with a heavy wind. The storm signal has been raised and warning sent to all ports where shipping may be endangered.

Estimating the damage that has been done by the rain to the Sunset and Home telephone systems; the electric lines and steam railroads; the city streets and country highways; flooded basements and damaged buildings in progress of construction; it is safe to say that $20,000 will not cover the cost of repair work.

But railroads, car lines, telephone companies and merchants unite in one prayer of thanksgiving for the chance to spend money on repairs and to get downpour. It will come back to them tenfold.

Lines of the telephone companies in Pasadena, San Bernardino, Riverside, Colton and San Diego were all out of order.

Just as the electric light flared into its night labor at Seventh and Hill streets a policeman noticed something floundering in the whirlpool at the northwest corner. It was a man. The man was drenched. He had fallen face downward and was unable to regain his pins. "Swim out, O'Grady," yelled the officer as he collapsed him. O'Grady was landed at the Police Station, as it was feared he might be drowned on the way home.

TROLLEY LINES LUCKY.
Surface lines of the Los Angeles Railway Company were halted and the cars were being bunched at street corners. Olive street became a river at 7 o'clock in the evening, and the derauling of a Glendale car at Olive and Seventh streets caused a blockade.

BEEMAN'S HOUSE AND
HIVES SWEEP MILES.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]
MONROVIA, Feb. 3.—Vivid lightning flashed and thunder shook this town at 5 o'clock this evening, while a heavy shower of large hail came clattering down.

For the first time since 1883, Santa Anita Cañon, which indents the mountain range at the borders of Monrovia, on the Arroyo side, is swept by a rapidly coursing stream, whose roar can be heard in places away from the cañon, and whose work has been the heaviest in this section in years.

The torrent from the Santa Anita wash, which once a river bed, assumed proportions which swept clean of improvements the lands under cultivation on the mesa at the mouth of the cañon, and the mountains bounding it. The greatest sufferer is Charles N. Faber. Just at dawn he was roused from sleep by the thundering of a volume of water precipitated by a cloudburst in the mountains. He hastened out to move his bees stands and do what he could to protect his property. The flood rose so rapidly and was so threatening that he was compelled to abandon all. From a vantage point on the mountain side he watched his little home and accumulated property swept down toward Monrovia.

The frame structure in which Faber lived floated two miles, and lodged against the White Oak avenue bridge across the wash. One hundred and twenty-seven bees stands were lost. Other bee stands were damaged. Faber's holdings greatly damaged by the flood. When the stream reached the Santa Fe Railroad station at Santa Anita, Arroyo, the telephone for help. A number of laborers were sent over and banded the water wherever possible, but the work has been ineffectual, for the rains have increased the stream.

In the railroad station of Santa Anita is three feet of mud, and more pouring in, washed by the flood from the highlands of Sierra Madre.

that lasted more than an hour. Many cars missed switches, making more work for the wrecking crew than they could handle, but beyond this no damage was done.

Not a car left the tracks of the Pacific Electric Company, and traffic to Pasadena, Monrovia, Whittier and all beach towns was uninterrupted. The heavy graveling of the roads is a countable for the lack of washes and the engineers have so handled the slide gutters that water crossed the tracks at almost no point on the entire system.

SCHOOL CHILDREN HAPPY.
No marks were placed against school children for tardiness yesterday. That they reached school at all was due to the fact that fathers or big brothers accompanied most of the little tots and carried them across the swirling streets. The boy without a new pair of rubber boots was looked down upon by his playmates, but he had as much fun as the rest in the boat races down the gutters.

At Sixth and Hill streets a little fellow reached from the curb for his miniature yacht, consisting of a portion of a lathe, and fell in. He was pulled over and over and would probably have drowned had not a houseman of Engine Company No. 10 rescued him. Spasmic hawking forced much of the muddy, oily water from his lungs, and he was carried to his home little the worse for his swim.

SEASON'S HEAVIEST.
[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]
SANTA ANA, Feb. 3.—The heaviest rainstorm of the season for the Santa Ana Valley came last night, when .35 of an inch of rain fell. It came in the day to bring the total of the showers up to 1 inch, making about 1.40 inches for the past two days. Last night's precipitation was accompanied by violent gusts of wind, and for a time the rain fell in torrents. A peculiarity of it was the suddenness with which it came, and the fact that it was a part of the evening being cloudless. Rain is falling again this evening, and another stormy night is in prospect.

SAN DIEGO'S WET.
SAN DIEGO, Feb. 3.—There have been showers this evening and indications are for a stormy night. Reports from the country show that at many places the rainfall was much heavier than in the city. That as a result all the reservoirs are filling rapidly. That the downpour in the mountains was tremendous is evidenced by the fact that the San Diego river, which for several years has not been visible above the sands in Mission Valley, showed a broad stream flowing toward False Bay.

The heavy rain, a small consideration compared to the immeasurable benefits resulting. Shortly after noon today occurred a heavy thunderstorm, accompanied by hail the size of beans. All the washes are running full. On account of the present weather conditions it will be at a perfect standstill for at least a week.

CHINA TO TAKE PART.
Lewis and Clark Exposition Secures Promise of Valuable Exhibits by Flowery Kingdom.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]
PORTLAND (Or), Feb. 1.—Official participation in the Lewis and Clark Exposition by the Imperial government of China is now assured. Chinese participation will be on an unprecedented scale, and the acquisition of the Chinese exhibit makes it certain that the Lewis and Clark fair will excel all earlier world's fairs in the number and quality of exhibits from oriental nations.

The Chinese exhibit will occupy one-fourth of the space in the Oriental building, which is one of the largest exposition palaces on the grounds. Regular customs of the Chinese, habits, progress in war, racial traits and manufactures will be shown in the exhibit which the Flowery Kingdom will make. Joss-houses will be erected to illustrate the peculiar native religion of the people. The exhibit will include carved and inlaid furniture, gold and silver filigree work, pottery of various kinds, modern and ancient weapons and educational methods.

Negotiations with the imperial government have been going on for over a year, and Col. Donohoe, director of the exposition, has spared no effort to secure official Chinese participation.

Negotiations are now being carried on with the Chinese Consul at San Francisco, and the details regarding the participation of the Flowery Kingdom in the world are being rapidly arranged.

NOT DRY WEATHER ONES.
Despite the flooded streets in the University district the church was well filled last night to hear Dr. Biederwolf. The Sunday-school orchestra was present for the first time and added much to the musical programme. Mr. Maxwell, the chorister, sang with fine effect "Where Will You Spend Eternity?"

Mattison B. Jones presented in a stirring address the anti-race-track agitation and was received with great enthusiasm.

Dr. Biederwolf made a most effective address from the text, "Behold I stand at the door and knock." In the course of his talk he referred to the fact that "It took an earthquake to convert the Philippian jailer; a great light flashing from heaven to make Saul of Tarsus blind; Zacharias had to climb a tree and the thief was found upon the cross. You are not here to experience like that, but to have your heart softened by the love of God, and to let Him in or give Him forever a go."

Many Weather Signs.
Country people have great contempt for those who cannot tell what the weather is going to be till they have looked at their expensive barometer or seen the weather indications in the morning paper. They have so many signs of finding out what they wish to know about the weather that they are so accustomed to doing this that

LAKE AT REDLANDS JUNCTION.
[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]
REDLANDS, Feb. 3.—From the reported five inches of rain for the storm up to 2 o'clock this afternoon, three inches of it having fallen Wednesday night. It is still raining with every prospect of a continuance.

A cloudburst that reported from near Redlands, the probable cause of the high water in San Timoteo Creek, a great volume of water striking the cañon around 5 o'clock this morning, spreading out a mile or more in width where the lay of the land permitted, and rushing into a torrent into a cañon at Redlands Junction, where by 6 o'clock it had formed a lake three miles wide and four long. The waters had subsided, but not before much damage had resulted in that section.

The volume of water that came down the cañon was much greater than the flood of last August, but it came more slowly.

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

ARCHIE TRIES RAZOR TRICK.

Latest Freak of Criminal
Wedded in Jail.

Slashes His Windpipe With Sharpened Blade.

Clergyman Comes and Prays
With the Robber.

Archie Hill's clandestine marriage in the County Jail proved a failure, or else his sentence of life imprisonment for murder preyed upon his mind.

Hill, who had been declared legally dead, tried to prove his actual "deadness" yesterday by slitting his throat with a razor. The attempt was made in the County Jail about 3 o'clock.

Hill's act was not clever, for while he had a keen blade in his hand and had every opportunity to do a good job, a measly "twipe," severing the windpipe, missing the important arteries—executed in a half-hearted manner, only made a painful slash in the man's throat. He is in the Receiving Hospital guarded by a Deputy Sheriff, but unless complications arise or pneumonia sets in, the attending surgeons anticipate no serious consequences.

For a long time past Archie had confided to the captain of the jail that he had no hope of getting a reversal in his appeal to the Supreme Court. In the case wherein he was convicted of murdering Carl Carson, street-car conductor, he said that all he hoped was to serve seven years and then get parole. But for that hope he said he would die.

The prisoners who associated with Archie reported more than once that he was going "nuts," but as to that the officials at the jail have formed no opinion, beyond the fact that at times he did get very excited. He has been confined in the cell on the ground floor. Each week the trustees are permitted to shave themselves, in the afternoon, by an odd facility it happened to be the same identical razor taken from Hill) was handed to Archie, and he ostensibly proceeded to make his toilet. No attention was paid to him, but a few minutes later one of the turnkeys noticed Archie bending over the cot and then it was discovered that he had cut his throat.

Yesterday morning he appeared to be thoroughly upset over the fact of his secret marriage having become known. He had been told by some of the inmates that the marriage was illegal. Dr. French and another doctor happened to be in the jail at the time Archie was found, and they did what they could to bandage the wound until the ambulance could take him to the Receiving Hospital.

While the patient was in the hospital, where Archie arrived with his head hanging on a hinge, was highly dramatic. Even though it cost him a punctured windpipe, he had at least an opportunity to hold his new wife's hand.

When he was placed on the operating table with a white cloth over his face, he grabbed a notebook from one of the officers and wrote a message to his mother in a firm, steady hand; it read: "I am sorry that I cannot be with you, but I am sure that you will be proud of me."

Archie said that he felt that the Lord had forgiven him for killing the Pasadena street-car conductor. He said that he was sorry for having tried to kill himself; he seemed to have no hope of getting well, however.

While the patient was still there, the young colored girl whom he married by stealth in jail, came in crying bitterly. She sat by his bedside all the rest of the afternoon, holding his hand and weeping.

While it was thought certain that he would die, Under-Sheriff Yonkin asked Archie to tell the truth regarding the jail marriage; when he had really been married standing behind the curtain, whether some of the jail officers had not noticed it.

Lying there, dying, as it was then thought, Hill lifted up his right hand and whispered painfully: "I swear that it was just as I said; no one else was being married except us four—the minister, his wife, myself and my sister."

town which suffered considerably was the vicinity of South Oak and Avenue and Arlington Drive, where the ground is so low that water ran from nearly every direction. Here electric cars running between Pasadena and Los Angeles were delayed for several hours. The railway had also to abandon its North Lake and San Marino lines.

And all this trouble was caused by 2.75 inches of rain between early Thursday evening and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, making a total of 8.4 inches for the storm. "Rainmaker," Hatfield of Esperanza claims the credit for it, and says there is more of it to come. Last night the downpour started in again at about dusk, and was accompanied by thunder and lightning, and was indicative of a continuation of yesterday's disastrous celebration.

The police were kept busy last night answering calls for help from stranded occupants of houses, mostly women and children, who were being frightened by seeing the rain fall in like a shower over their doors. Families at the corner of Catalina avenue and Mountain street and at Dakota and Morton streets had to be rescued by the gallant bluecoats.

WHITTIER.

REBUILDING BIG DITCH.

WHITTIER, Feb. 3.—The East Whittier Land and Water Company has begun work on the rebuilding of its ditch from Rycamore Canyon to Bartolo, a distance of about four miles. The engineering work is under the direction of City Engineer F. W. Turner.

The ditch is about sixteen miles long, not counting laterals, and brings water from the head works near Bartolo, through this city to East Whittier and La Habra.

The Whittier Daily News made its first appearance today. It is a neat 8-column, 4-page paper, and is the first daily published in this city. Shirley L. Holt is managing editor and A. C. Harvey is editor.

As the preliminaries and actual construction will consume four or five months, the Trustees, at a meeting this afternoon, advertised for bids to enclose the upper deck of the south end of the pier. This deck is 60x250 feet, and will make a creditable temporary pavilion. The sides will be of glass, and the cost will be $250,000.

CREDITORS MOURN.

Edward L. Stephens, a local restaurant keeper, has been missing since Tuesday, and a number of local people would like to see him. Stephens came here from Los Angeles last April, and for a time ran a lunch counter. Two weeks ago he took charge of the Riviera dining room, and ran up several bills, before neglecting to pay his help.

The World here has elected F. M. Cates, Ed. S. Brown, H. Parsons and E. M. Johns delegates to the district convention at Santa Monica, March 8.

Miss Helena Murphy, aged 50, died last night. She had been a resident of Los Angeles for many years, and was well known in the community.

The building outlook for this year is very bright. During January building permits for the construction of 147,730 square feet of new building were issued.

SAWTELLE.

SEARCHING FOR WIFE.

SAWTELLE, Feb. 3.—Robert C. Kyle, whose wife, Wednesday, has been making his home here for several weeks. He came here from Los Angeles, and has, to all appearances, been making a fruitless search for the wife whom he deserted at Monterey or Pacific Grove. Only a few days ago he was wondering where his wife could be. He said he wanted to go home to her, but that he must have been insane when he left her.

CLAREMONT.

BIG RANCH DEAL.

CLAREMONT, Feb. 3.—Dr. Johnson of Chicago and Mrs. Campbell of this place, have purchased 180 acres about one-half mile northwest of town. The land is covered with sage brush and oak and work has already commenced in clearing the brush. The parties are interested in developing water and making substantial improvements. The land will be planted to oranges, thus making one of the largest orange groves in Southern California. This is the largest property transfer in acreage for years around Claremont and means a great deal in the beginning of the development of thousands of acres of sagebrush-covered land.

EL MONTE.

WATER MASS MEETING.

EL MONTE, Feb. 3.—A mass meeting of citizens in this locality met to discuss the water problem. In this part of the country water is easily obtained and is being pumped to supply other localities. The ranchers want to use the water to prevent the water from being used for other purposes. The water problem is a serious one, and the citizens are concerned about it.

POMONA.

INTER-CLASS FIELD DAY.

POMONA, Feb. 3.—The students of the Pomona High School will conduct an inter-class field day on the local grounds tomorrow afternoon. The event is being watched with much interest, as the local school will make a strenuous effort to win honors in the inter-school athletic high-school meet to be conducted at Claremont under the auspices of Pomona College on March 18. The school also hopes to win the championship of the Citrus Belt High School League.

CARNEGIE'S OFFER ACCEPTED.

MONROVIA, Feb. 3.—The Carnegie offer of $10,000 for a library building for Monrovia was accepted last evening by the Board of Trustees, and provision made to meet the terms of the gift. The Frank Jones residence on East street has been sold to A. Sherwood of Saint Louis. Julian Koss of Duarte has bought the Hargis house on East Lemon avenue.

Early Sunday "Liners."

PLANS FOR PAVILION.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 3.—The City Trusts have accepted the plans submitted by C. C. R. Jones for a pavilion on the beach. The pavilion is to be a large, modern building, and it is to be a landmark on the beach. The plans are well liked by the community, and it is expected that the pavilion will be a great success.

Early Sunday "Liners."

The large volume of "Liners" now being regularly printed in the Sunday Times is a valuable service to the community. It is a book that is well appreciated by all who read it, and it is a book that is well worth the money that is paid for it.

Bibles Given Away To Subscribers of The Times.

Not an ordinary Bible but a handsomely bound, beautifully printed and elaborately illustrated Family Bible is offered to all subscribers of the Los Angeles Times. It is one of the most complete Bibles published. The Catholic Bible, Douay Version, and "The Illustrated Holy Bible" are both offered. There are 1400 pages and 800 illustrations, nearly all of which are original productions in the Illustrated Bible.

The Retail Price

of the Catholic Bible Douay Version is $9 and of the Illustrated Protestant Bible $12, but they are to be distributed by The Times to its subscribers for practically the cost of carriage—only ten cents a month for 18 months, in combination with a subscription to The Times. The first card of these Bibles, ordered several weeks ago, has reached Los Angeles and delivery to patrons will begin at once.

Terms

The terms on which these beautiful up-to-date Bibles are distributed are so easy as to make them practically a free gift and within the reach of everyone. The following conditions, which are self-explanatory, may be filled out by anyone desiring either the Illustrated Holy Bible or the Douay Version and sent to The Times Office. The Bible may also be secured through any of the principal regular agencies of the Los Angeles Times in Southern California or Arizona.

UNCLE SAM STOPS GAME

Faker "William Harrison's"
Mail is Held up.

Hundreds of Inquirers Sent Him Their Money.

Nothing in Return—Slick
Shirt Waist Bait.

The Times has received many inquiries, verbal and by letter, as to the standing of one, William H. Harrison, and the local postoffice has been flooded with similar queries.

His mail is now held up by the postal authorities, and as far as can be learned he has been victimizing hundreds of people throughout Southern California.

Harrison (the name is doubtless an assumed one) inserted the following advertisement in the rural press:

January sale will cost fancy shirt-waist suit suits, 40 colors, striped, checked and solid. Thirty yards, 10 pieces 25 cents; five yards, 10 pieces 10 cents. 25 cents for material, order blanks, etc. William H. Harrison, Box 100, Los Angeles, Cal.

Persons who, attracted by this catchy ad, sent the 2-cent stamp as directed, received small samples of the stuffs mentioned, and with the order blanks a circular stating that all money sent must be either cash or postoffice money orders; checks would not be accepted; the safety of cash sent by letter was guaranteed up to $1, and so forth. The prospective victim was specially cautioned to send no single amount greater than $12, for instance, the person wished to order $1 worth of goods, he or she should mail two orders for $1 worth each.

Just what was the hidden point in this curious advertisement is not surmised, but it served to arouse suspicion in some quarters—a suspicion that was strongly reinforced when days passed and no goods arrived.

Harrison also stated in his circular that no orders would be accepted after February 1. The presumption of the Federal officers now is that his plan was to reap what he sowed by the close of the month of January, then clear out for other fields.

To persons who complained to Harrison by letter that they had sent him money and received no goods he replied by letter that "the house" was blockaded with rush orders that must be gotten out, and the goods in question would go forward at the first possible moment. Thus he eased his victims off toward the appointed day when "no more orders would be accepted"—February 1.

WOMAN CONFEDERATE?
Harrison operated boldly in all he undertook. For instance, the postoffice requires a reference to be given by anyone making application to rent a box. Harrison glibly gave the name and address of a reputable business establishment on West Sixth street, which, he said, had arranged to do a mail-order business through him. He had the nerve to assume that the mere statement would be sufficient, that no investigation of it would be deemed necessary; and he was correct.

Harrison seems to have worked in connection with a woman confederate, and he absolutely avoided the cashing of money orders at the postoffice.

He introduced himself at one of the Los Angeles banks as the representative of eastern mills engaged to open a mail-order business in this city, and he pointed out a three-story building in course of erection on South Spring street as having been leased for this business. He opened an account at this bank, and arranged to deposit all his money orders, instead of taking them to the postoffice for cashing.

Harrison's next move was to bring to the bank a young woman whom he introduced as Margaret Hill. He said he had advertised for a book-keeper and she answered. He had engaged her as his assistant, and he was careful to emphasize that they would have full power to sign his name in any and all money transactions.

Whether the young woman was a dupe, or his confederate, has not been discovered. The last of February having arrived, after which "no more orders would be accepted," Harrison seems to have quit the town. A considerable quantity of mail is awaiting him at the postoffice, but he does not call for it. He has not been seen since he left the town, and likely has no intention of going to it again.

He is the money-order receiver in the postoffice. He has been in the postoffice since the 1st of February, and the postoffice indicates that Harrison is a legitimate business man. There is, of course, no means of knowing how many hundreds of dollars he reaped in cash, but his mail was very heavy through the month of January.

"BY-BYE, SIDEWINDER."
Washington and his "Kentucky Piker Club" Get Out of the Wilson Building.

Washington and his Kentucky Piker Club have removed from the Wilson building on Spring street.

"Sidewinder" and "Big Bill," the money-getters in the Wilson building, in which many victims are said to have been deceived in poker games, are also missing from their old haunts. Chief Hammett's blockade, established several days ago, was the prime factor in closing the place, and the police yesterday visited by a policeman were ordered by Hammett, and though the "club" continued business under police espionage for nearly a week, the strain on the members became too great. The dying gasp of the organization occurred yesterday when all of the paraphernalia was moved out, and visitors were told "nothing doing."

Detective Seidler, who has been watching the place for weeks, stood by and heard the swan song as the last vestige of furniture was carted away.

Washington and his associates may resume business under another name and in a new place, but the police say poker as it has been played in the Kentucky Club will not be tolerated. Other so-called clubs are now under espionage.
